

We pray for all children around the world, especially the demanding ones. Some have all the material things they need but hunger for Love. Others are written off because they are different, handicapped. Let us show them that they are not useless, that they can play their part.

We pray for our own children that God will richly bless them, protect them and keep them in His ways.

We pray for the older people, so often ignored by society. Let us go out of our way to include the elderly, to seek their advice and learn from their wisdom.

Amen
